Blown Glass

David Kuntz's fascination for glass began as a young child. He spent time with his grandfather who enjoyed Crystal Beverages. The soda pop colored the bottles orange, red and brown. For 10 years David has been designing realistic and abstract blown glass pieces. He picked up the art while recovering from an injury that required him to seek a warmer climate. Classes at the University of Miami confirmed his love for blowing glass. David returned to his home in Elk County and now operates a studio and offers classes.
